More cleared, on-point proof.

Two more engagements squarely on point: AI-accelerated speed and embedded delivery.

Houlihan Lokey

HOULIHAN LOKEY · MOBILE CRM, AI-ACCELERATED

Nymbl designed and delivered a native iOS mobile CRM for Houlihan Lokey, extending the firm's HLOS platform into a mobile-first experience purpose-built for investment bankers on the move — giving them instant access to relationship data, meeting prep, and account intelligence between client meetings. Using an AI-accelerated design and development approach (Figma with MCP and GitHub integration), Nymbl took the app from concept to internal App Store launch in two to three months, where it now supports 400+ active users, with an ongoing roadmap bringing additional desktop CRM capabilities into the mobile experience.

ECAPITAL · EMBEDDED PRODUCT & ENGINEERING PARTNER

Nymbl operates as eCapital's embedded product and engineering partner across the suite of applications that run its entire asset-based lending operation — from funding requests and underwriting through monthly reporting and loan servicing — delivering new feature sets, major platform upgrades, and extended-hours application support with defined response SLAs. Nymbl is now leading eCapital's modernization program, replatforming the client-facing Borrower Portal onto a modern full-stack frontend and API layer without disrupting the interconnected systems behind it, establishing a reusable foundation for further modernization across the platform.
